

Wally's Vacation

by Amy Schreiber and Josh Finkelstein

Hi, my name is Wally!
This story is about my family's trip to Mexico.

Here we are packing. Mom said not to forget anything but I always do.

We must go to the airport early tomorrow morning so I will go to bed soon.

Here we are standing in line at the airport.
Dad complains about how heavy mom's
bag is but I don't mind helping out.

Here we are on the airplane. Dad sits in the seat by the window.
People always stare at us, but I don't mind.

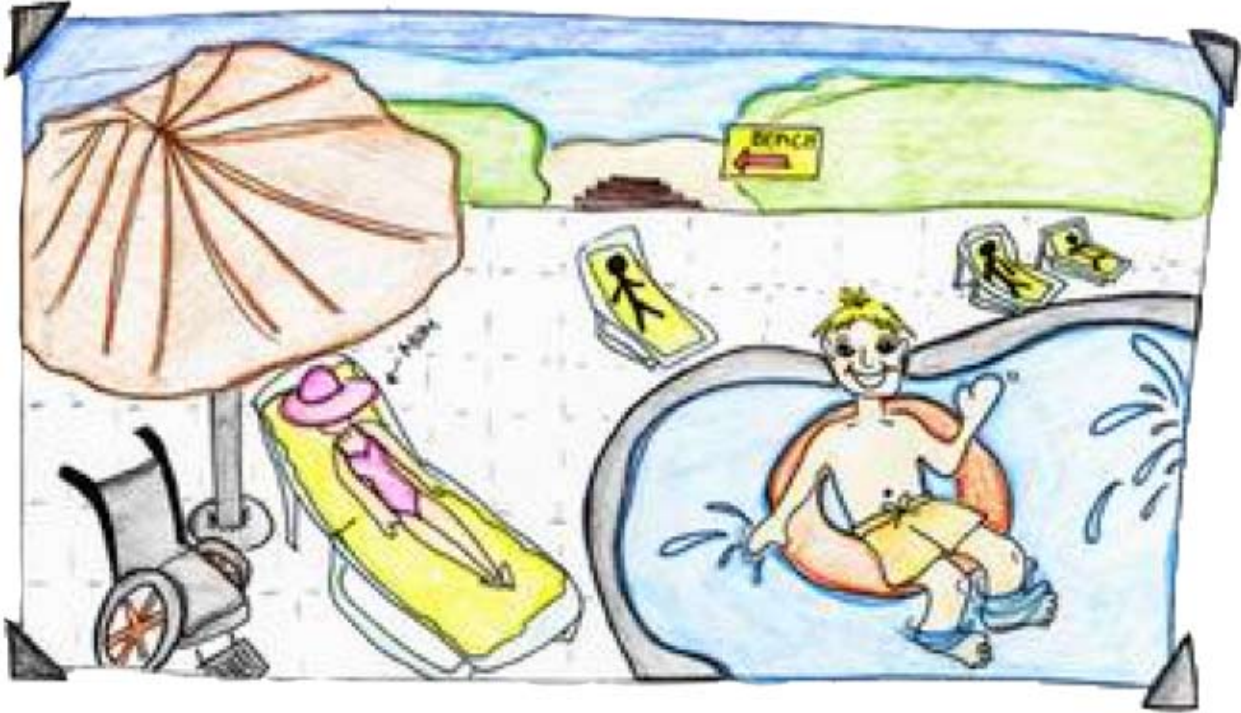

At last we get to the hotel.

They don't have ramps so we must stay on the ground floor. I like it better this way because we are close to the ice cream store!

We go to the pool every day.
My mom likes to lie in the sun but I love swimming best!

I am sad when we have to leave. I had lots of fun in Mexico!
